

Introduction

The Hallett Community and Sports Association Inc is one of the Town Management Committees within the Regional Council of Goyder. Prior to the Council amalgamations in the mid 1990s, most townships in the region had their own Councils and the District Council of Hallett (comprising the Hallett and Terowie areas) had been managing community infrastructure since 1935. Following the 1997 amalgamations of the smaller councils (Hallett, Burra Burra, Robertstown and Eudunda) as the Regional Council of Goyder, town management committees were established as incorporated bodies to coordinate community infrastructure and advise Council regarding priorities for allocation of Ward Capital Projects and Sports and Recreation Funds (see Appendix 1, item 2). Hallett shares ward funds with Terowie and Whyte Yarcowie. Originally called the Hallett Town Management Committee, the Hallett Community and Sports Association Inc (HCSA) was renamed in 2009 and continues to perform the Town Management Committee function.

The HCSC has a very small fund-raising base and any moneys it does raise are earmarked for town development. Because there is always more demand for funds than available money, this Strategic Plan has been developed to identify the priorities of the District.

The population of the District of Hallett (Hundreds of Hallett, Anne, Thomlinson) is estimated at 300, with 100 living in the township of Hallett. The economy of the district is primarily based on agriculture and energy (wind power), with some retail (General Store, Second Hand Shop and Hotel) and many secondary/off farm activities such as arts, consulting, and employment in larger towns. The town sits on the Barrier Highway, which is a major interstate tourism and freight route. Along with many regional areas, Hallett suffered a loss of population in the late 20th Century, but this trend is now reversing with several new families having moved into the district in the past few years, and fewer vacant properties.

The town can lay claim to being one of the 'greenest' in South Australia, with residents using rain and bore water, no reticulated gas infrastructure, and the district hosts a number of wind farms that produce sustainable energy.

Hallett is proud of its community infrastructure:

- Institute Hall: situated on the Barrier Highway in the main street of Hallett, the Institute Hall is a beautiful example of the architecture of the late 19th Century. The Hall is managed by the Hallett Hall Committee, a subcommittee of the HCSA, and it sees regular use for meetings, markets, social activities like the monthly 'craft and coffee' session, funerals and birthday parties. The Hall is the home of the Hallett Historical Society and the Hallett Library, both of which have dedicated rooms. The Sir Hubert Wilkins' Cottage has been granted a separate lease and is no longer the responsibility of the HCSC or Hallett Historical Society.
- Sporting facilities: golf, bowling and tennis are still in regular use; the netball and football clubs have amalgamated with Burra and Booborowie (BBH) and all training and games are held in Burra or the larger regional centres. Cricket is in recess. Football and Recreation Ground funds are held in trust by the HCSA.

The oval complex is used for community events such as the Christmas party and for irregular private functions. The parking areas around the oval are available for camping for which patrons contribute a donation – campers have access to toilets but no power or other services.

- Swimming pool: the community swimming pool is the meeting and recreation space for families over the spring/summer/autumn period. The Pool Precinct includes the old CFS building, adjacent parking area, the pool and plant room, and open space and a playground (currently being developed) on John Street.
- Cemetery: originally laid out in 1878, the Cemetery is still used and provides a fascinating insight into the history of the district.
- Tourism Attractions: Dare’s Hill Tourist Drive starts at Hallett, passes Sir Hubert Wilkins’ Cottage and ends at Terowie - it is a popular destination for visitors interested in history, and the scenery provides feel of the outback only two hours from Adelaide. The Hallett Historical Walk was developed by the Hallett Historical Society and provides 32 places of interest. The Heysen and Mawson Trails pass through the Hallett District and the Hallett Railway Station (operated by the National Trust) provides basic accommodation for walkers. An art gallery operates in the old primary school buildings, and other artists are located in and near the town. An automatic seismograph is located on property near Toolangi Road.
- Waste Transfer Station: until recently this operated as the Hallett Dump, but changing environmental and OHS&W regulation have led to the closure of the dump and it re-opening as a Waste Transfer Station. Previously the HCSA operated the dump and gained revenue from fees, but this opportunity was not offered in the transition to the Waste Transfer Station. Council collects householder rubbish and recycling either at the kerbside (for residents on main roads) or at the Council Depot in Hallett.
- Roads, footpaths and parking areas: the Barrier Highway and the Wilkins Highway (Jamestown-Hallett Road) are State Government (Department of Transport Energy and Infrastructure) maintained. All other roads are under the care and control of the Regional Council of Goyder. All footpaths (including those on State roads) are under the care of Council.
- The Hallett community provides CFS and SES services from a new building on Toolangi Road, these services are affiliated with the parent organisations and have no formal connection to the HCSA. In earlier years, there were active CWA and Red Cross groups, but these are now defunct. Hallett has a Police Station and Police Officer. Church services are shared around the District with regular attendances in Hallett.
- A monthly newsletter is produced by a small editorial team and distributed to all Hallett households.

The HCSA manages community space (primarily the Swimming Pool Precinct, Rec Ground and Hall complex) under a lease with Council. There are two formal subcommittees (self-managing with their own bank accounts): the Hallett Hall Management Committee and the Historical Society Committee; and informal subcommittees for swimming pool management, the Hallett Newsletter and the Mt Bryan Expedition Documentary. Informal subcommittees are formed and disbanded as needed.

Regional Council of Goyder Strategic Plan

The 2007-2012 Goyder Strategic Plan has six Goals:

1. To manage the environment so as to create a physical environment that promotes the wellbeing of the region
2. To manage the community's health and be responsive to the broader community by developing and implementing strategies that fulfil identified needs and provide a cohesive community.
3. To provide an environment that promotes Council's responsibilities in achieving outcomes that benefit the whole community
4. To provide, maintain and use an appropriate level of public infrastructure and assets within the financial and resource capabilities of Council
5. To continue to provide and adopt the structures and processes to ensure that Council's accountability and relationships to its residents, employees and stakeholders reflect: sound principles, ethical behaviour, robust procedures, democratic accountability, openness, transparency, clearly assigned roles and responsibilities and responsive frameworks for community participation.
6. To maintain an accountable and progressive management culture.

Council's Strategic Plan is currently being reviewed.

Development of the HCSA Strategic Plan

The HCSA covers a range of groups and interests, and as such it was at risk of internal competition for scarce Council, fundraising and sponsorship funds. The Committee therefore decided to develop a Strategic Plan that identified the priorities for the District. The first Hallett Strategic Plan was produced in October 2010. This plan was very detailed, with the aim of documenting the range of work undertaken by the HCSA and its subcommittees and guiding activity during 2010/11. Much of the work identified in that plan has been completed. With the committee now working together more effectively and with a stronger focus on strategy, this plan contains less detail and is intended to guide priorities during 2012 and 2013.

The Draft 2012-2013 Plan will be distributed for community comment in March, and adopted at the April HCSA meeting.

The Strategy

Vision for Hallett District

A vibrant community with good facilities, that is welcoming to new residents, attractive to visitors, and accepting of new opportunities.

Goals

1. To maintain community infrastructure in good condition
2. To improve the look of the main streets
3. To facilitate opportunities for the community to engage in social and economic activity
4. To encourage tourism and business development

Responsibilities

The HCSA Strategic Plan outlines a range of goals and activities that have shared responsibility between the HCSA, Hallett community, and the Regional Council of Goyder. The inclusion of activities that are the responsibility of Council aims to provide Council with a consolidated list of priorities to support planned expenditure of budget, Ward and Recreation funds.

This Plan is realistic about the level of volunteering in Hallett, acknowledging that most of the work required to keep the town running is done by a few dedicated people.

In considering community feedback about activities and development, the HCSA will take into account the level of active involvement of those making suggestions, recognising that people who get involved are likely to have a better understanding of the amount of effort needed to achieve our goals.

Items that need to be addressed in future strategies

These items are not current priorities, but have been recorded so that they can be addressed in future Strategic Plans.

- Upgrade of the downstairs supper room at the Hallett Hall
- Disabled/general access to upstairs rooms at the Hallett Hall
- Activities for children and young people
- Spruce up buildings in main streets
- Bus tours around the wind farms
- Website to promote Hallett
- Town entrance statements
- Public internet access

Priorities

The Plan is based on the following priorities:

1. Infrastructure maintenance and upgrade (including improving the look of the town)
2. Encourage and support community activities that promote social connection and well-being
3. Improve signage, facilities and information for visitors and tourists
4. Identify and access a range of funding sources to support the goals of this Plan – this priority is including under Priorities 1-3 in the Action Plan

The Action Plan shown on the following pages provides detail on how these will be implemented, recognising that Hallett is a small community and its residents have multiple community commitments.

The HCSA has established the role of Council Liaison Officer to maintain good communications with Council, and the Executive (Chair, Treasurer, Secretary) regularly meet with Council staff to work collaboratively to achieve our shared priorities.

Achievements against the 2010-2011 Action Plan

This section summarises the outcomes of the 2010 Action Plan.
